November 22, 2021

Buy: Upcoming Catalysts.

We believe there are multiple catalysts for the shares over the coming months starting with approval of the company's MRTP application and possibly including initiation of proceedings for a low-nicotine mandate sometime next year. We reiterate our Buy recommendation and $7 price target.

We believe FDA approval of the company's MRTP application for its very-low nicotine (VLN) cigarettes is the most likely significant catalyst for the shares. The company's recent discussions with the agency gives it increased confidence of approval. Timing is still uncertain, however recent approvals authorizing marketing of three new tobacco electronic nicotine delivery system (ENDS) products from R.J. Reynolds and four new oral tobacco products from U.S. Smokeless Tobacco Company LLC, and the nomination of a new FDA commissioner who has publicly supported a very-low-nicotine mandate are positive signs for 22nd Century. We believe an MRTP approval is likely before year-end.

The company expects to launch VLN in the U.S. within 90 days of MRTP approval, partnering with regional and national chains for a roll-out. Validation of the company's product by well-known chains, we believe, will be perceived positively by the market. Regardless of the timing of approval in the U.S., 22nd Century is preparing launch of VLN in international markets, including several in Asia and a test market in Europe. Our valuation includes zero contribution from international markets, suggesting upside to our target if the company is successful in the U.S. and international markets.

22nd Century is also in strategic discussions with potential pharmaceutical partners to investigate opportunities of providing reduced nicotine cigarettes with other smoking cessation products. Research has shown greater efficacy in quit attempts when VLN is used in conjunction with some smoking cessation products. This could be a significant source of value over time, and drive sales higher than our expectations both domestically and internationally.

The low-nicotine mandate, in our opinion, remains a major catalyst for the shares. We believe it is reasonable to assume a new mandate would broadly follow the 2018 ANPRM since none of the studies supporting the efficacy of a low-nicotine mandate have been invalidated and, in our opinion, technical achievability of a mandate has been demonstrated by 22nd Century.

Other catalysts include harvest and sale of the company's first hemp crop and licensing payments for IP it shares with Aurora Cannabis

Valuation: Our $7 price target is the sum of: $3.08/share for the VLN asset, $3.18/share for the low-nicotine mandate and $0.74 for the hemp/cannabis franchise.

Risks to Target include, among others: Our price target assumes approval of the company's MRTP application and a nicotine mandate, which could be delayed or may not be approved. Finding a partner for the VLN business could take longer than estimated and/or on different terms than assumed. The nicotine mandate may take longer to decide, and the transition period could be longer than estimated. See the Risks Analysis section for additional risks.

Revenue from the harvest of the company's hemp crop is anticipated in Q4 of this year, but, depending on timing and delivery, could be pushed to the right. Going forward, the company will use its strategic partnerships that include CannaMetrix to develop a roadmap on plant lines, KeyGene for plant line development, breeders for trial capabilities, the company's farm for cultivation and Panacea for extraction and purification. This is a powerful, vertically integrated, unique set of capabilities in the industry and we expect the company to aggressively pursue opportunities in this space as the next year unfolds.

In Q4, we also expect a license payment from the IP it shares with Aurora Cannabis. Aurora and 22nd Century Group share the global intellectual property (IP) rights to certain patents and patent applications relating to genes in the hemp/cannabis plant required for the production of cannabinoids in the cannabis plant. The two are working closely together to enforce their IP against infringing parties and explore commercial development opportunities. Additional revenue in 2022 from this initiative appears likely.

The company recently announced a third franchise, the specialty hops market, which leverages its expertise in plant biotechnology, regulatory navigation, and the strategic partnerships it has assembled for the hemp/cannabis franchise. The addition of another revenue source, in a market facing less regulation than tobacco, that reduces dependence on favorable regulatory rulings, is, in our view, a major positive for the company.

The company estimates the hops market opportunity at $500 billion, which, with the $700 billion cigarette market and $100 billion hemp/cannabis opportunity, brings its total market opportunity to $1.3 trillion.

The company intends to develop specialty hop varieties that may have distinctive aromas and flavors or nutraceutical and medicinal properties. The varieties may be optimized for disease resistance or to enhance yields. Initial opportunities identified include disease and pest resistance, yield increases, new flavors and nutraceutical and pharmaceutical applications such as managing anxiety, mitigating sleep disorders and stomach problems.

We expect 22nd Century to engage in unfunded research on general issues facing the industry but also to engage with customers to develop specific varieties. The company is about six months into an anticipated two-year development cycle and expects upfront license fees starting in 12 to 18 months. We believe incremental expenses will be modest and tied to development projects. Initial revenue expectations were undisclosed, but we believe they would start around $3 to $5 million.

One advantage of the hops market is the lower regulatory oversight relative to tobacco and hemp/cannabis. This should enable a much quicker time to market than both tobacco and hemp/cannabis. The other significant advantage for 22nd Century is its ability to leverage the infrastructure it has already built to develop varieties for the hemp/cannabis market.

Currently, revenue is primarily generated from contract manufacturing of filtered cigars and cigarettes, and we expect this to remain the case through 2022. However, beginning this quarter revenue from multiple new revenue streams are expected to begin. Initial sales of a hemp harvest will begin in Q4 this year and extend into Q1 of next year. VLN is being prepared for launch in several international markets and in the U.S. post MRTP approval. License revenue on the IP the company shares with Aurora Cannabis is expected to begin this year. Over the longer-term the company's discussion with potential pharma partners could be another significant source of revenue.

We believe approval of alternative products, including 22nd Century's VLN fits the FDA's comprehensive regulatory plan for tobacco and nicotine regulation, announced in 2017, included "encouraging development of innovative tobacco products that may be less dangerous than cigarettes." The FDA stated the products receiving marketing authorization "could benefit addicted adult smokers who switch to these products – either completely or with a significant reduction in cigarette consumption – by reducing their exposure to harmful chemicals." We believe 22nd Century's VLN product, would also benefit public health by offering an alternative for smokers seeking to quit and this could weigh heavily in the FDA's decision.

22nd Century is ready to launch pilot programs within 90 days of approval of the MTRP and a more substantial launch after evaluation of the pilot results and modification of the strategy. We have assumed meaningful domestic VLN revenue begins in Q4 22 and view this as quite conservative.

International distribution of VLN in select international markets is expected to begin in Q1 of next year. This will likely occur in locations that have less strict regulatory frameworks than the U.S. but still have substantial tobacco markets. The company is focusing on several markets in Asia, has plans to open a branch in New Zealand, and is exploring a test market in Europe. We have assumed modest contributions from this endeavor and believe there is ample room for upside to our estimates.

Price Target. Our price target of $7 comprises three components: We attribute about $3.08/share for the VLN asset. The non-addictive nicotine mandate is valued at $3.18 per share. The remainder of the price target, or $0.74 per share, equals about $112 million and encompasses the company's investment in Panacea, the Anandia licenses and the potential from its relationship with KeyGene. We have assumed a long gestation period for the hemp/cannabis business because it is in the early stages. However, the Aurora announcement and the restructuring of the Panacea investment could be catalysts to more rapid development of the market and 22nd Century's monetization efforts.

Risk Analysis

The tobacco industry is highly regulated, and our price target depends on approval of the company's MRTP application and a nicotine mandate, which could be delayed or may not be approved. Our price target assumes the company will find a partner for the VLN business and this could take longer than estimated and/or the partner could demand different terms than assumed. The nicotine mandate may take longer to decide, and the transition period could be longer than estimated. There will likely be other paths attempted by the industry to comply or the industry may opt to focus on other nicotine delivery systems as regulation of the combustible cigarette market increases. This could affect our assumptions on the royalty rate as well as market share.
